A century of selected works from the Schlee Collection, Southampton and Ben Uri Collection, London

15 April – 15 June 2015

[Film Strip of 5 Key Images]

Ben Uri is delighted to announce a collaborative exhibition with Southampton City Art Gallery bringing together selected works from the Philip Schlee collection of drawings, prints and paintings by 20th century and contemporary artists working in Britain between 1920 and 2004, and resonant works on paper from Ben Uri's own collection. Comprising 49 works by 37 artists and celebrating the diversity and richness of both collections, it covers a wide range of subject matter from figuration to abstraction and artistic practice, including works by artists Frank Auerbach, David Bomberg, Jane Joseph, Leon Kossoff, Michael Rothenstein, Glenn Sujo and Edward Toledano, who are represented in both collections. Other represented artists include Craigie Aitchison, Gillian Ayres, Sandra Blow, Christopher Le Brun, Roger Hilton, David Hockney, Peter Lanyon, Sarah Lightman, Henry Moore, Graham Sutherland and Elisabeth Tomalin.
